

Off the page:
Mediating the course book
Craig Thaine
Languages International, Auckland

1

Overview

- Course books these days
- Teacher attitudes towards course books
- Some drawbacks
- Approaches to mediating them
- Practical examples of getting material off the page

Task:
McGrath's metaphors
(2016)

- Which of these metaphors for course books reflect your view? Why?
- recipe   - springboard   - straightjacket
- supermarket   - survival kit
- crutch   - compass   - holy book

My history with course books

- Trained to use them as little as possible
- Taught 25 / 30 hours a week

Issues with course books

- Often don't meet learners' needs
- Don't work in many contexts → NZ
- Sometimes aren't very communicative
- Occasionally include dubious language rules

On balance

- I always use them ...

On balance

- I always use them ...
but with a skeptical eye.

Course books today

".. course books are the main teaching resource used by many of the world's English teachers. The extent of English teaching worldwide could probably not be sustained without the support of many kinds of text books and their ancillaries ..."

- Richards 2014

They've improved ...

- Stronger student-centred focus
- More emphasis on speaking
- More logical sequencing of activities
- More appealing design
- Wider range of ancillary resources available

Do they facilitate language learning or acquisition?

"I have seen no convincing evidence that a global course book has facilitated durable language acquisition. But to be fair, I have seen no convincing evidence that a global course book has ever not facilitated durable language acquisition."

- Tomlinson 2016

Hadley: Interaction between teachers, teacher experience and attitudes towards textbooks (2018)

11

Role of course books in English language programmes

- More often than not they have a central place in English language programmes
- In many institutions they are the syllabus
- Provide consistency for students
- Provide support for teachers, particularly those with little experience

12

Potential drawback

Boil-in-the-bag teaching

Set task → students do task (heads down)
 → check in pairs → feedback
 → next task ... etc.

... and at some stage students will do a little bit of speaking.

b Work in pairs. Which phrases from 1a are true for each job, do you think?
3 a Match sentences 1–3 to the photos A–C.

- I had to study a lot and do on-the-job training for three years. But I didn't have to pay for it – the government did.
- You don't have to go to college, but you have to do a special course.
- You usually have to have a degree in languages.

have to/had to: positive and negative

4 a Match the phrases in bold in 3a to these meanings.

- This is necessary.
- This is not necessary.
- This was necessary in the past.
- This wasn't necessary in the past.

b Fill in the gaps with have to, don't have to, has to and doesn't have to. Which verb form follows have to?

POSITIVE
 I/You/We/They _____ do a course.
 He/She _____ do a course.

NEGATIVE
 I/You/We/They _____ pay for it.
 He/She _____ pay for it.

HELP WITH LISTENING Have to and have

5 a CD1 ▶ 29 Listen and notice the difference between have to and have in these sentences.

- You have to be careful when you drive.
- Now I have a job I love.
- You don't have to be careful when you drive.

b CD1 ▶ 29 Listen and write the sentences you hear. You will hear each sentence twice.

6 CD1 ▶ 31 Listen and practice.

You listen to Barbara and Richard talk about their jobs.

You don't have to (not) go to college, but you do (must) do a special course. The good thing is you don't pay very much for the course. But it's a lot of work & stress. I know everything about the laws of the game. That means you learn 100 pages of rules. When I did my course eight years ago, we do practical and written exams. I'll never forget my first practical exam. I was (not) refereed for 90 minutes, only the first half of a match. I was terrified because I gave a player a red card after only five minutes. He wasn't happy about it, but dealing with angry footballers is something a referee learns very quickly & referees run for 90 minutes and he is (not) be super fit like a footballer, but he is (not) be super fit like a footballer, but he is (not) be super fit like a footballer, but he is (not) be super fit like a footballer. That's really difficult! I love my job, but people never remember the good decisions I make, only the bad ones.

I'd like to have (a job with) ...

c Work in pairs. Compare your ideas. How many are the same?

19

Ex 1a

- Sort vocabulary into categories: people, basic benefits, special benefits.
- Collocation matching task.
- Use concept questions to check the meaning of more difficult vocabulary e.g. promotion.
- Drill words with difficult pronunciation e.g. colleagues.

Vocabulary and Speaking Employment

c Work in pairs. Compare your ideas. How many are the same?

20

Ex 1b&c

- Students make notes and tell each other.
- Students rank benefits from most to least desirable.
- Set up role play – job offer – negotiation of benefits.
- Students have two or three benefits and negotiate a swap with a student who has different benefits.
- Students give reasons for a benefit choice – partner infers what the benefit is.

21

Alternative approach

Dogme

“... take the view that language is an emergent phenomenon, and that the learning of it is a jointly constructed and socially motivated process ... then the argument for coursebooks starts to look a bit thin.”

Meddings & Thornbury 2003

22

Alternative approach

Dogme

- Classroom discourse and learning starts with students' own lives
- Shared construction of knowledge
- Teachers responds to learners' needs as they emerge

23

Strengths and weaknesses of Dogme

- Good opportunity to re-think methodology
- Students and teachers placed at the centre of classroom activity

but

- Risk of introducing its own prescription
- Can prove challenging in some teaching and learning contexts

24

Localised adaptation

- Curriculum and institutional restraints may limit a teacher's ability to adapt materials
- Teachers may have little choice in the materials they work with
- Adaptations are made on the basis of the learner group you are working with 25

Localised adaptation

Adaptation of materials - Addition

- Extemporisation: spontaneous response to a learning opportunity
- Extension: adding and supplementing material
- Exploitation: exploiting what's there in a slightly different way

McGrath 2016

26

Localised adaptation and getting material off the page

- Exploitation – using what's in your course book in a slightly different way
- "... the creative use of what's already there ..."
- "Whereas extension involves quantitative change, exploitation represents a qualitative change ..."

McGrath 2016

27

Localised adaptation

Getting material off the page involves exploiting course book activities in a different way.

Teachers use:

- their experience to critically evaluate course book material
- their creativity to make it more lively and more communicative.

28

Pre listening adaptation

Cambridge English Empower B1
Doff, Thaine et al. 2015

1 LISTENING AND SPEAKING

a Look at the different ways of learning and answer the questions.

- reading about a topic
- in a classroom with a teacher
- listening to someone explain
- one-to-one with a teacher
- group work
- studying on your own
- online or with an app

1 What different ways have you experienced?
2 Are there any other ways you can think of?
3 Which ways do you prefer?

b Listen to Janina and Roberta talking about online learning. Who is worried about online learning? Why?

c Listen again. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)? Correct the false sentences.

- Janina's going to do an online course next year.
- Roberta prefer learning in a classroom.
- Roberta likes to choose when she studies.
- Roberta couldn't meet her teachers during her online course.
- Roberta liked reading the students' online profiles.
- Janina needs to have excellent IT skills for the course.
- Janina must do the introduction course very soon.

29

Pre listening adaptation:

Role play first

Student A
Read the instructions and write answers to the questions in italics. Speak to Student B who has already done an online course.
 You are planning to study university courses next year.
 One of the courses you really want to do is online.
What is the topic of the course?
 You're not sure you want to do a course online.
 There are some things you're not sure about.
What do you want to know about online studying?
 You're not sure if your IT skills are good enough.
Why not?

30

Pre listening adaptation:

Role play first

- Students do role play
- Gist task – similarities and differences between students' version and the audio
- Detailed comprehension task
- Students repeat role play

31

While reading adaptation

Step-by-step interactive read

- Put students in small groups of three or four students and write the following criteria on the board:
  - ✓ I already know this.
  - ✗ I didn't know this.
  - * This is interesting / surprising.
  - ▲ I'm don't like this idea.
  - ? I'm not sure what this means.
- Students read for about a minute. As they read, they make notes next to the information in line with the board criteria.
- Tell students to stop reading and one student in the group comments on something in the text using the board criteria and the group discusses it. Students take turns being the first to comment.
- Continue in this way until the reading is complete and then do feedback by asking the whole class for examples from the criteria on the board.

32

Clarifying grammar form

face2face Pre Intermediate (2nd edition) Redston & Cunningham 2012

HELP WITH GRAMMAR Present Perfect for life experiences (1): positive and negative

• Look at these sentences. Then choose the correct verb form in the table.

Present Perfect	He's done a lot of work for charity.
Past Simple	Danny started acting at the age of seven.

• We use the Present Perfect for experiences that happened some time before now. We don't know or don't say when they happened.

• We use the Present Perfect/Past Simple if we say exactly when something happened.

• Fill in the gaps for the Present Perfect with be, have, 's or hasn't.

Positive:

You/we/they + _____ (= have) + past participle
 he/she/it + _____ (= has) + past participle

Negative:

You/we/they + _____ + past participle
 he/she/it + _____ + past participle

Tip - We often use have with the Present Perfect. I've never met Johnny Depp.

• How do we make past participles of regular verbs? Is there a rule for past participles of irregular verbs?

• Check in EXERCISES p135.

33

Clarifying grammar form

Students' questions for you

- Ask students to look at the text (reading or listening) that the grammar came from. Students underline more examples.
- Put students in small groups of three or four students and ask them to think of questions that can ask you about the form of the grammar point.
- On the board, give students some question starters, for example:
  - What's the correct order for ...?
  - Which verb changes when ...?
  - Is this example correct?

Practising functional language

Cambridge English Empower A1 Doff, Thaine et al. 2015

USEFUL LANGUAGE Asking for travel information

• Contexts Put the conversation in the correct order. Then listen and check.

A

So, at 5.15. And is it a direct bus?

Great! Thanks for your help.

What time's the next bus to Cambridge?

Excuse me.

OK, and which bus stop is it?

B

The next bus leaves in 20 minutes.

It's stop 7, near the ticket office.

No problem.

Yes! How can I help?

No, you change at Birmingham.

• Practise the conversation in 4d with a partner. Take turns to be the station official and the passenger. Change the times, kind of transport and the platforms / bus stops.

35

Practising functional language

Cambridge English Empower A1 Doff, Thaine et al. 2015

A: Excuse me.
 B: Yes? How can I help?

Practising functional language

Rebuild the dialogue

A: Excuse /
 B: Yes? How / help?
 A: / time / next bus / Cambridge?
 B: The next / leaves / 20 /.
 A: / 5.15. And / direct /?
 B: No / change / Birmingham.
 A: OK / bus stop /?
 B: /7 / ticket office.
 A: Great! Thanks / help.
 B: / problem.

37

Practising functional language

Rebuild the dialogue

- Point to the first two prompt exchanges on the board and elicit the complete expression.
- Don't write up the full version and don't let students write down what you are drilling.
- Give a clear oral model with a natural rhythm and stress and do choral and individual drilling of these two examples.
- You can also do open pairs – nominate a Student A and a Student B and they say the exchange in open class.
- Do the same with the next two exchanges then students practise the dialogue so far in pairs – they take both parts.
- Continue in this vein (elicit – model – drill – pairs practice) for the remainder of the dialogue. Whenever students practise in pairs, they start at the beginning of the dialogue.

38

Off the page: Core principles

- Provide a communicative focus
- Get students talking more
- Get students up and moving – vary the interaction
- Provide a problem-solving, task element to an activity
- Include a game / competition element
- Allow students to explore language and ask questions
- Be alert to the language students produce
